SPARTANS HELD BY SOLDIERS

STUDENTS MEET AT MEN'S GYM FOR CHEST PARADE TODAY AT 5:30

San Jose State college band in full regalia, the football team, seven truckloads of State students, private cars, fraternities, sororities, and organizations will meet in front of the Men's gym this afternoon at 5:30 to form the Community Chest Parade.

The parade will be a joint celebration of the next home game, the Hardin-Simmons game, and a boost for the town's Community Chest drive.

The college will make up the sixth division of the parade, and after forming in front of the Men's gym, the participants will take their place in the procession at Vine street.

The parade is routed to move east on Santa Clara street, south on First street to San Carlos street, west on San Carlos street. It will disband north and south on Almaden avenue.

Ending at the Civic auditorium, the Hardin-Simmons game will be given a plug when a short skit is put on at the Community Chest rally scheduled at that time.

Posters and signs furnished by Frank Carroll, graduate athletic manager, will decorate trucks and cars to advertise the coming game. The college's part in this parade is under the sponsorship of the athletic department with DeWitt Portal in charge.

Among town organizations represented in the parade will be the Boy Scouts of Santa Clara County, various ambulance corps, Theodore Roosevelt Junior High School Patrol, Willow Glen Junior High School Patrol, Lions Club, Shell Oil Company, Coca Cola Bottling Company, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The San Jose High School band and the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School band and Patrol will also participate.

HOSTESS CLASS NOT GIVEN IN WINTER TERM

Miss Dimmick's hostess course will not be given in the winter quarter, announces the registrar's office.

Students who are planning to take it at that time should make other arrangements. In order to accommodate these students, Miss Dimmick is willing to allow those with light programs to enter her hostess course now, providing they start today. The class meets Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 o'clock. It carries one unit of credit. According to plans, the same course will be offered in the spring quarter.

YWCA Takes Part In Community Chest Program Tonight

A tableaux will be presented by the College YWCA in the Community Chest program at the city auditorium tonight.

Girls taking part in the program are Raenelle Wells, Eileen Phifer, and Mary Ishimoto. The tableaux has been worked out by Betty Grass.

Nine Deferments, 8 Postponements Granted Students

Eighteen students were considered for stay of induction and deferment at the weekly meeting of the San Jose State college draft committee Friday in the Dean of Men's office.

Stay of induction was awarded to eight students, and nine were granted deferment. One student was denied both of the above classifications.

The draft committee headed by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman consists of the following faculty members: Dr. H. A. Sotzin, Dr. P. V. Peterson, Dr. William Poytress, and Mr. Glen Hartranft. This committee meets every Friday at 2 o'clock. Students are reminded that their statements of information must be filed with Mrs. Louise Ralph, secretary in the office of Dean of Men, by Thursday noon. Students are referred to this office for necessary blanks and draft information.

Senior, Sophomores Pick Officers At Run-Off Tomorrow

Sophomores will choose their new class president tomorrow in the run-off election conducted in front of Morris Dailey auditorium from 8 to 5 o'clock.

Those candidates surviving last Thursday's primary election are Paul Borg and George Coles. They will be the only two nominees on the sophomore ticket.

The seniors also must enter the polls again to choose an AWA representative. Dorothea Bernsdorf and Audrey Orcutt are the candidates left to vie for honors on the senior ballot.

'THE RIVALS' CAST BEGINS REHEARSALS

With Peter Mingrone in charge of the stage crew and James Clancy as director, production of "The Rivals", opening presentation of the San Jose Players' fourteenth season, is well under way.

Frank Thompson, English and drama major, and Eleanor Wagner, Speech major, head the cast for this comedy by Richard B. Sheridan. Shirley Kress, Jack Hume, Howard Evans, Leon Fletcher, Clarence Cassell, and Ruth Froelich are among the supporting actors.

The play will open November 5 for a four-day run. Season booklets are still available in the Speech office for one dollar to students who hold associated student body cards, and two dollars for outsiders.

Miss Marie Carr of the Speech faculty will be in charge of several one-act plays to be presented during school hours this quarter. Other productions scheduled by the San Jose Players include "Ah, Wilderness" and "Winterset".

SCORE LATE IN FOURTH QUARTER TO GAIN TIE WITH FORT ORD

By WILBUR AGEE

The Golden Raiders of San Jose State college met their equal in Spartan stadium Friday night at the hands of a rugged Fort Ord eleven, managing to just hold their own and remain undefeated by coming from behind in the fourth quarter to knot the score at 6-6.

It was little but tough 170-pound Aubrey "Mule" Minter, left half for the Spartans, who came through with a brilliant nine-yard run after taking a wide pass from Fullback Allen Hardisty, to pay dirt, despite the fact that three Fort Ord players were hanging on. Fred Lindsey, who was injured at the close of the half, was sent in to make the conversion but the big Soldier line crashed through to block the attempt.

Fort Ord won the toss and elected to kick off, which was taken by "Mule" Minter on the 10-yard line and carried back 18 yards to the 28-yard line. After two plays, which gained nothing, Lindsay kicked into Soldier territory.

On the first play, Louis Davis passed to left end John Johnson for 20 yards with Minter stopping the play after it got by the other State secondaries. Pete Zagar, towering Fort Ord fullback, went for another first down on the next play, again being stopped by Minter in the secondary.

ORGANIZATION HEADS MUST LIST MEMBERS

Sorority and fraternity presidents are asked to turn in names of active members to Assistant La Torre Editor Ken Stephens as soon as possible.

These names, Stephens said, must be turned in before appointments can be made. Appointments must be made before pictures can be taken. La Torre staff members are still selling space in the yearbook. This is the first step that all organizations must take before they are able to make appointments for picture taking.

Editors for La Torre this year are Ernest Ralph, Industrial Arts senior from San Jose, editor; Walter Schmidt, Commerce major from San Jose, is business manager. His assistant is Leon Torrey, also a senior from San Jose. Photographic editor is Joe Azzarello of San Jose, a Police School major. Patricia McGuire of San Jose, a future teacher, is associate editor. Assistant editors are Barbara Kurz of Turlock, a Commerce junior; Bee Laurence from Stockton, a Journalism major, and Kenneth Stephens, a junior Advertising major from Los Gatos.

Police Determine Gunnery Personnel

Tomorrow noon, Police school members will meet in gunnery practice to determine their pistol team personnel. At the last meeting, Karl Evans was elected president of the group.

Those in competition will include: Bill Southern, George Gomez, David Rosenthal, Gene Beresini, Clarence Anderson, Russ Hofvendahl, Karl Evans, John Brown, Louis Gerlinger, Ed Pitts, Ross Shadinger and Ross Donald.

DAY EDITOR (This Issue) WILBUR AGEE

Herein Lies The Danger

One of the largest headaches on-campus has been, in years past, the problem faced by students, the deans of men and women, and the Appointment office, in finding part-time jobs to enable students to maintain themselves while attending college. Always there were more students than there were jobs, not to mention outside competition, and many employers did not hesitate to take advantage of the situation by cutting wages, adding hours, changing the nature of the work offered, and in other ways.

With the heavy drain of the Selective Service Act upon the district's young employables, and with the general stepping up of industry, attributed to the defense program, the situation has changed. Jobs are not going begging, but they are more plentiful. Wages and salaries are higher.

Speaking Of Courtesy

No matter where you go, you always find it, and miss it when it's lacking. Speaking of courtesy, as we are, there are several things to be pointed out.

College is no exception to the courtesy rule. In fact, it is one of the most important places where real courtesy should be practiced, among instructors as well as students.

One of the prime examples is appointment making and breaking. If a student has an appointment for an interview with one of his instructors or advisers, he should do everything in his power to keep that meeting, and keep it on time. On the other hand, a student seldom asks for an appointment unless he needs advice, and when he is granted the interview, arrives and finds the instructor gone, he usually feels neglected and more than a little irked.

The principle of the appointment story is not to make them unless you can keep them, and be there at the hour set. Only flood, earthquake, fire, or physical disaster should keep you from it. And that same rule should

Working conditions, in many cases, are better.

Unfortunately, this solution or partial solution of an old problem creates a new one. Temptation is great for a student to accept a "part-time" job which pays him more per hour than he has ever made before, but which utilizes his time and energy to such an extent that he is in no condition to do his assignments or properly attend classes.

Herein lies the danger. A part-time job for a college student, it should be remembered, is to pay his school and living expenses, not to support him in luxury. A student who gives more of himself—his mental energy, his physical presence—to a "part-time" job than to his college curriculum is defeating his own purpose.

—Moody.

apply to our faculty members.

Along the courtesy line, and important too, because it is one of our traditions here at college, is speaking to your professors in the halls, on-campus, and downtown too, no matter where you see them. This isn't like a high school, where only teacher's pet and a chosen few can visit with teacher, then be accused of "polishing the apple", by the envious remainder.

We can talk to our instructors, we can have a coke with them in the Co-op, we can visit with them anywhere and regardless of what newcomers think, it isn't polishing that proverbial apple at all. Don't think because you give a timid smile to your favorite professor that he'll think you're after an "A". Maybe you are after that ever elusive grade, but not that way, and he knows it. The faculty members are human, after all, and they can tell who's polishing and who's sincere. So, give out with a grin when you see them coming. You might be surprised, and pleasantly, at the response you get.

—Finley.

On To Stockton

Already the tom-toms of student enthusiasm are booming for the College of Pacific football game, still three weeks away. Rally committee reports indicate overwhelming student body desire to make the trip by train.

Chief objection to the student desire is that a bus trip would take students directly to the stadium, while the train would stop in Stockton, three miles away. At the same time it is pointed out that bus fares are lower than train fares.

The Rally committee's reply is that in 1939 over fifteen hundred students and townspeople made the trek by train and were met at the Stockton depot by a welcome committee of C.O.P. rooters who ferried the entire assemblage to the stadium in private cars.

Another argument advanced by the committee is the greater freedom afforded by the trains. After all, what is more dear to the heart of the college rooter than a football trip with accompanying tom-toms, swing music, dancing, school songs and yells? The movies, with their touch for the colossal, have given the undergrad a mark to shoot at. You know the type—a typical college football picture with its gay, colorful train trips.

At the same time, argues the committee, the intermingling of students and townspeople will promote a feeling of friendliness and establish a common bond between the two groups.

—Cook.

PEGGY RICHTER

On-Campus

Plans for an all-college excursion to Stockton this year for the College of Pacific football game are being made by Rally committee. Two years ago a similar expedition was taken to the lair of the C.O.P. Tiger. It was a trip well-remembered for the fun up on the train and the friendliness shown by the host college at Stockton.

There were about 1500 excursionists that year including supporters who traveled in two special trains and a caravan of private cars. Students, band members and townspeople joined together to make a united invasion of the College of Pacific.

Editor's note: The following letter comes from Otis Kinkade who is now in Hawaii, where he finds life much different than when he attended college last year.

Your correspondent is learning to fish, ah yes, off many a shore and wharf; also I have trilled. Nevertheless I am just learning to fish, that is, fish as I have never done before.

Instead of waiting for some scaled creature to strike at a piece of bait fastened to a hook, I go into the depths after these sea-fellows. I enter their habitat, select the one which appeals to me; then shoot it with a spear. Sounds simple, does it not?

The above is what one ought to be able to do and, absolutely the natives, plus many haule's who have spent several weeks of practice are extremely successful. However, as for myself, I am but a green amateur and while I enjoy the adventure tremendously the fish I catch are not numerous.

My attention as a novice is not wholly to fishing, but is focused on the sea life which Mother Nature has placed so abundantly around the Islands; such as corals of many varieties and colors, sea anemones, sea urchins, star fish, and many other beautiful tropical fish too numerous to mention.

Gazing into the sea's tropical thrilling experiences. Perhaps after a few weeks of practice I will graduate to a sea diving fisherman. That's pau for now.

—Otis Kinkade.

DEFEAT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL PADDLERS 3-2

San Jose State college's freshman water polo team opened its season Friday afternoon in a not too impressive way with a win over its cross-campus rivals of San Jose high school.

The Spartan yearling splash ball artists barely nosed out the Bulldog septet, scoring the winning tally in the final quarter of play. The high school paddlers had a 2-1 margin going into the second half of the game.

FIRST SCORE

The Spartan septet came through with the score early in the first quarter when Robert Hepler, forward from Venice high school, pushed the ball by the Bulldog goalie.

However, the high school team came back strong and in the same quarter put the ball past the State goalie to tie the score. In the second quarter the Bulldogs again scored, this time on a long throw, which got past Dick Anderson, State goalie.

With a goal in the third quarter and a last minute goal in the fourth quarter on a long throw and a tip, the Spartan yearlings went to the front and maintained their lead until the final gun.

ANDERSON IMPRESSIVE

Hepler and Jack Van Housen at the forward spots and Cecil Dumbalian at the center back position, each scored a goal for the State septet. John Pinger at the other forward spot played a good game but was unable to get the ball past the high school goalie. Anderson played a good game in the cage, blocking many of the Bulldogs' shots.

However, the team lacked experience and will need plenty of practice this week before it meets the always strong Olympic club "B" team, states Coach Charley Walker. The Olympic squad will invade the local pool Friday night and the frosh team will play the preliminary game with the "B" squad.

LAST DAY FOR TEAM ENTRANCE IN INTRAMURAL

Today is the last day on which school organizations and departments may enter teams in the intramural touch football league, as team play begins tomorrow noon on the San Carlos turf.

Organized teams or persons wishing to form teams should sign up with Coach Walt McPherson some time today in the Men's gym.

Six-man football will be played this year, and games will be played during the noon hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays under the supervision of McPherson, who is in charge of the intramural sports program this year.

Teams participating will play one game a week; one-half on Tuesday and the second half on Thursday. The first team to enter the new league this year is sponsored by the Police School.

STATE SEPTET PREPARES FOR OLMPIC TILT

San Jose State college's varsity water polo team, victorious in its first start last Thursday night over the San Francisco YMCA septet, will begin strenuous practice this afternoon in preparation for its coming encounter Friday night with the Olympic club splash ball artists in the local pool.

Last year the Winged "O" outfit nosed out the Spartan paddlers in both games, although being pushed to the limit to win the second game.

Both teams are faced with the problem of developing a team from players who lack experience. Four of last year's freshman septet are on the varsity squad this year and form the nucleus for Coach Charley Walker's team.

In Thursday night's battle Dan Mehan played a good game in the goal position as did Douglas Bacon in the forward spot. Both are transfers this year.

SPARTAN 'BABES' BEAT SANTA ROSA JAYCEE 21 TO 6

While their varsity brothers had a tough time in tying Fort Ord 6 to 6, the Spartan freshmen football team had it a little bit easier in defeating Santa Rosa Junior college 21 to 6 at Santa Rosa Friday night.

Holding a one-point margin of 7 to 6 at the end of the first half, the freshmen put the pressure on in the second half to score two touchdowns.

The first-year men defeated Salinas Junior college 20 to 6 two weeks ago, and this Friday will try to make it three straight when they meet Modesto Junior college at Spartan stadium.

Star Substitute

Allen Hardisty, second-string fullback, who replaced the injured Fred Lindsey in Friday night's game with Fort Ord, was the unexpected spearhead of the Spartan attack in the second half.

Hardisty, former San Jose high school boy and freshman star last season, climaxed a display of brilliant running with a touchdown pass to left half Aubrey Minter

SPORTS SCRAPS

By "SCRAPPY" SQUATRITO

While Head Coach Ben Winkelman was here for the game last Friday night, Backfield Coach Walt McPherson was in San Diego, and Line Coach DeWitt Portal was in Santa Barbara.

Portal was scouting Santa Barbara State and McPherson was doing the same at San Diego State, the Spartans' foes Friday night in the border city.

Post game "scraps" . . . The "clock incident" cost the Spartans the services of "Bulldog" Fred Lindsey for the second half and possibly for the San Diego game. He got a back injury on the last play of the first half. That makes the third game this year in which the clock has failed to work.

Perhaps the poor passing of Lindsey and Allan Hardisty can be attributed to the brown ball used in the game. A white one was to be put in play, but the soldiers' white jerseys caused the brown one to be used.

Used to the white ball, which is a little bit heavier than the brown one, Lindsey and Hardisty could not judge the distance; thus, throwing it either over the heads of the receivers or too short.

The lighter side . . . Rally Committee Chairman Dick Payne did a good job of shinnying up the flag pole after the game. It seems the soldiers who hoisted the flag during the half caused it to get stuck and all attempts to haul it down proved futile until Payne went up after it.

With tonight's practice the varsity will have only three days of practice left before leaving for San Diego. Coach Winkelman plans to leave Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and give his boys a night of sleep in San Diego before the game.

EIGHT ASKED TO JOIN DRAMATIC HONOR SOCIETY

Eight students have been invited to join Theatron, campus honorary dramatic society. The organization has a standing membership of thirteen, with new members chosen each year on a basis of points earned in dramatic productions.

Students who received invitations are Esther Lacitola, Harrison McCreath, Ed Soares, Alice Modry, John Caro, Mary Kirtley, Martha Bullitt, and Betty Stuhlman.

Old members include Barbara Lee Bellah, Audrey Tracy, Clarence Cassell, Peter Gilli Jr., Howard Melton and Ruth Froelich. Miss Bellah will leave school at the end of the quarter, so a substitute member was chosen for her, making the membership fourteen until December.

Initiation of new members will be held at the home of Hugh Gillis, Sunday. The group was organized in 1934 and is an honorary, not an active, society as it does not present any dramatic offerings.

A.W.A. HOSTESS POSITIONS OPEN TO FRESHMEN

Freshmen women are given the chance to enter student activities by acting hostesses for the A.W.A.

Girls who can serve one or two hours during the week are asked to attend a meeting today at 12:30 in the student body office.

The duties of the student union hostess is to sit at the desk and issue magazines, check equipment for games, and give information. It is one of the many projects of the A.W.A.

Carol McDaniel, who is in charge of the meeting, describes it as the best way for entering freshmen women to get better acquainted.

FREUND ADDRESSES COSMOPOLITANS

Campus Cosmopolitan club will present Rabbi Freund at the club's first meeting of the quarter in the Student Center Thursday evening, October 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Rabbi Freund of the Bickur Cholin synagogue of San Jose will speak on the topic, "The Position of the Jews Today". He will also answer questions from the group. The meeting is open to all students.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans Pledge Meeting

Bryce Faunce was appointed chairman in charge of social activities by President Bill Raye at the regular weekly meeting of Alpha Phi Omega, campus service fraternity.

Plans were discussed for the first invitational pledge meeting next week and the inter-fraternity dance with the California university and Stanford university chapters later this quarter.

Co-operative Houses Exchange Dinners

Mary George (women's co-operative house) and Spartan Hall (men's co-operative) held their first exchange dinner of the year last week.

Four of the co-op houses are planning a progressive dinner to be held next week.

Spartan Hall will have two dinner guests each week. These will be members of the faculty, interested in the co-operative house movement.

Ex-Staters Win Air Corps Rank

Howard Withycombe, Harlan Wilder, and Frank Savage, all former San Jose State college students, have won their wings at the Army Air Corps station, Brooks Field, Texas.

Withycombe and Savage were prominent in Spartan sports during the '38 and '39 seasons. The former still holds two school records in swimming, while Savage was a goalie on the water polo team.

With the termination of their seven and a half months' course as flying cadets, all three men automatically become second lieutenants.

Dr. Hunt Speaks On War At Forum Tomorrow Noon

Dr. V. Hunt of the Social Science department will speak on the topic, "Effects of the War", at the Public Affairs Forum tomorrow noon in the student center. There will be a discussion after the speech in which the audience will have a part. It is a luncheon meeting, so everyone may bring his lunch; admission is free, and everyone is invited.

Fritz Elected President Of Spartan Stags

Elmer Fritz was elected president of the Spartan Stags at a meeting last Thursday evening at Stag manor, 330 South Ninth street.

The membership, consisting of 55 students, elected Ted Andrews, vice-president; Tom Griffin, sergeant-at-arms, and Bill Votaro, chairman of social and athletic affairs.

The Stags moved from their former home on the campus at the beginning of the fall quarter. They are now living at 330 South Ninth street. The house was occupied by members of the Delta Theta Omega fraternity last year.

Commerce Classes Realize Big Drop In Enrollment

"Total class enrollment in the commercial department has dropped approximately 500 under last quarter's figure," according to Dr. Atkinson, department head. The drop was felt most sharply in the upper division, where students are staying out of school to work.

In reference to jobs, Dr. Atkinson said that the department hadn't met the demand for all the jobs requested of it as yet.

Of the 1600 registered in 34 commercial classes, two-thirds are four-year State college students and the remaining third, two-year technical enrollees. "There has been a large increase in transfers from junior colleges," Dr. Atkinson stated.

Commerce majors, slightly more than last quarter, are distributed as follows: 105 merchandizing majors, 80 accounting majors, and 61 commercial teaching and secretarial majors.

One new class has been added for technical students — Business Fundamentals—with 112 students enrolled. Accounting and short-hand classes lead the field in enrollment.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of Inter-Fraternity representatives tomorrow at the SGO house, 470 South Eleventh, at 8:00 p.m.

Commerce Majors Hold Annual Fall Party Thursday

Annual fall get-together of all special secondary commerce majors will be held Thursday, October 9, 6:30 p.m. at O'Brien's Pompeian room.

Any student who is a special secondary business education major is invited to attend. All those eligible should sign up in Dr. Earl W. Atkinson's office before tomorrow. Formerly only sophomores, juniors, and seniors were permitted to attend, but it was decided this year to include freshmen also.

Guests attending the function are Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Curry of the Southwestern Publishing company, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Boer of the Gregg Publishing company, San Francisco; Professor Joe DeBrum, business education graduate school, Stanford; Professor Eta Ross Stuart, business education graduate school, University of California; and Dr. and Mrs. James DeVoss, dean of the upper-division, San Jose State college.

Forestry Club Adds Five New Members

Five students became new members of the Forestry club when it met recently in the Science building.

They were Enes Veglia, Bill Randall, Jeanne Smith, Barbara Holbrook and Claud Horan. Old members present were Evelyn Nesbit, Jack Silvey, Catherine Shaw and Mary Bernice Morisson.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 7, at which time there will be an election of officers.

Dancers Discuss Spring Concert

Active members of Orchesis, honorary dance society, attended a tea at the home of Miss Marjorie Lucas, dance instructor, yesterday afternoon. Plans for the spring dance concert to be held in the Little Theater were discussed.

Emphasis was placed on the possibilities of using a small stage for the dance programs to be given in the future.

Frequent supper dance parties and informal meetings without dance programs have been planned for the coming year.

MARCHING BAND PLANS PROGRAM FOR COUNTY FAIR

By WALLACE TRABING

As band members become more accustomed to their uniforms, symphony players resting their fiddles and polish their horns, and directors loosen their leading arms, music activities starts its crescendo towards the coming year.

The San Jose State college marching band, under the direction of Thomas Eagan, although handicapped by lack of musicians, have a busy quarter ahead of them. Besides their performance at the football games each week they will appear in the Community Chest parade tonight.

Next Wednesday afternoon at the Santa Clara Fair grounds the band will march around the grounds in their daily parade and present a concert of marches and light numbers. Equalizing the handicap of shortage of members is the fact that the one-hundred unit makes a more compact and easier handled group.

Tonight will be the second rehearsal of the symphony orchestra. This quarter Mr. Otterstein plans to present the regular concert two nights in order to make it possible for everyone to hear it. The first concert, to be presented December 2 and 3, will feature two major works: The "Symphony No. 4 in D minor" by Schumann, and the "Piano Concerto" by Tschai-kowsky, featuring Margaret Thomas Weyand on the piano. "Magic Flute Overture" by Mozart and Caucasian Sketches by Ippolitow Iwanow will also be presented. Mr. Otterstein said that the orchestra was extra-strong this year and should do well in its concerts.

DID YOU KNOW S.J.S. SUPPORTS A NURSERY SCHOOL?

Required of all home economics majors, open to students with the necessary pre-requisites is a course which few students know exists at the college . . . the nursery school under the direction of Miss Winifred Reynolds of the Home Economics department.

The purpose of the school is to give students interested in the work an opportunity to become acquainted with the behavior and personalities of children of nursery school age.

Children between the ages of 3 and 4 are admitted to the school. There are ten boys and ten girls at the present time and no more will be admitted until some of these drop out or outgrow the school. There is a long waiting list and as soon as there is a vacancy, the parents of the child next in line are notified.

Before a child is enrolled he must have had a complete physical examination. No teacher or child is allowed in the nursery school unless in A-1 physical condition, a precaution taken to prevent the spread of colds and other communicable diseases. A monthly height and weight chart is kept for each child.

There are only three adult chairs in the nursery. The school is set up for the benefit of the child physically, mentally and emotionally.

The next time you pass the southwest corner of the Home Economics building and hear voices obviously not college students', remember it's only the nursery school going full speed.

Newman Club Plans Activities

"A Welcome Dance" for new members is being planned by the Newman club, Catholic students' organization, on Friday, October 10.

A picnic at Santa Cruz is also planned for Monday, October 13, at which club members and their friends will be welcome.

Friday night following the Ford football game the club held an informal dance for State students. Recordings furnished by music and members report a good attendance.
